Garrabost Free Church

1) As we move forward as a new congregation there will be many things we will be thinking about, discussing with each other and hoping and praying for. One major issue is the process of calling a minister. The normal process is to draw up a list of ministers we would like to invite to listen to with a view to a call. The elders are keen to involve as many of the congregation as possible in this. The programme for supply ministers has been arranged up to the end of December and so it will be the New Year before this process will be fully implemented. In the meantime, however, if any of you have anyone in mind, please do not hesitate to speak to any of the elders in the first instance or leave an appropriately marked envelope for the elders in the plate at any time with your suggestions. Alternatively, you can email garrabostfree@gmail.com. Thank you.

2) It is planned to have a new bank account for the congregation shortly and it is hoped that new envelopes will be distributed in time for the beginning of January. For those who currently pay by standing order there will be a new standing order mandate posted with the new account details and a new reference number. If there are any who do not currently contribute to the work of the church and would like to do so please speak to the treasurer, Iain Nicolson or the Deacons' Court clerk, Iain Maclellan.

The Reformation Anniversary:

The local branch of the Scottish Reformation Society is hosting a Lecture on Friday 24th November 2017 at 7.30pm in the Cabarfeidh Hotel, when the speaker will be Rev Dr Malcolm MacLean of Greyfriars Free Church, Inverness. Dr MacLean will be speaking on the subject "Women of the Scottish Reformation." Everyone is most welcome.
